Dissemination at the Cybersecurity Workshop organised by the Slovenian Society Informatika, Maribor, Slovenia

Maribor, 8th December 2015

Report

Asist. Prof. Dr. Marko Holbl from the University of Maribor participated at the Cybersecurity Workshop organised by the Slovenian Society Informatika and the University of Maribor, Faculty of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science. Asist. Prof. Dr. Marko Hölbl presented topics of cybersecurity related to credentials disclosure and web security issues. Major threats and measures for dealing with these threats were presented as well as trends in the professional and research fields. The presentation was also based on the finding of the ECESM project.

The workshop is held every year in December and is one of the largest events for Slovenian researchers in the field of informatics.
